

Manufacturer's Warranty Binder Transfer

Coverage

Every Binder Transfer sold via PHASE or through a licensed distributor is covered by a 6-month manufacturer's warranty. All Binder products have been manufactured in the USA and are tested to the highest quality standards. This Manufacturer's Warranty covers defects in materials and workmanship. PHASE will send replacement buckles in the rare event that a removable buckle is broken or lost during normal use. If a fixed buckle is broken, or if there is a material defect due to poor workmanship, PHASE, at our discretion, will either repair or replace the damaged unit.

What Is Covered

PHASE's Manufacturer Warranty is a full-service warranty that will cover damages that occur for any reason. If the device has a defect that will affect its usability or effectiveness, PHASE will repair or replace the device free of charge.

Submitting A Claim

To submit a claim the original customer must contact PHASE directly to receive a warranty claim number. Upon receiving a claim number, the customer will be expected to ship the damaged device to the manufacturer if workmanship is required to fix the defective device. At PHASE's discretion, the device will be repaired and mailed back, or a new replacement device will be sent free of charge.
